From: Jason Dante
To: Nathan Drake

Subject: A proposition...

Hey Drake, how's it goin'? Long time no see huh? Listen, I've got a little proposition for ya. Something's going down in Central America and it sounds like our sort of job. A mining company uncovered something and they don't know what it is, but I've got a feeling it's big – really freakin' big!

How big? They've called in the International Office of Antiquities and given the dig site to some geriatric old geezer. I've got in with the old guy, but even he's having trouble making out the crazy symbols scattered all over the rainforest – that's where you come in ol' buddy.

I don't wanna say too much here... just say you're in and book your plane tickets. Trust your old pal Dante, this could be our big chance... you know how much gold's just lying around unclaimed around there, right...?

Dante.

From: Nathan Drake
To: Jason Dante

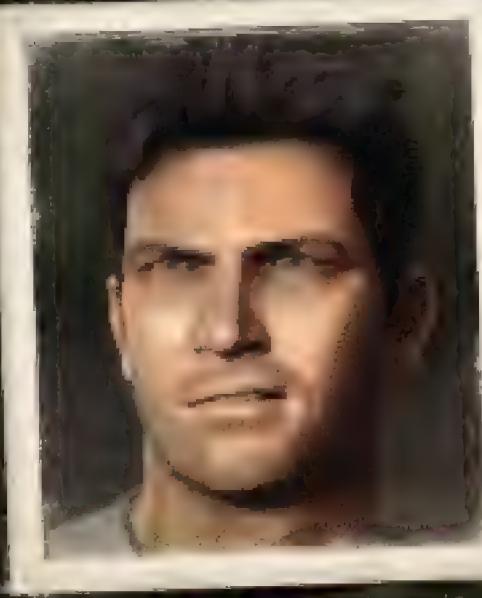

Subject: Re: A proposition...

Dante, I don't know. This sounds like another one of your wild schemes to get rich quick. The getting rich part I can handle but it doesn't sound like it'll be "quick".

But I guess it has been a while... and it's about time we tracked down something more than a few coins or a rotten old shipwreck. You better not be lying to me Dante...

OK, screw it, I'm in.

Nate.

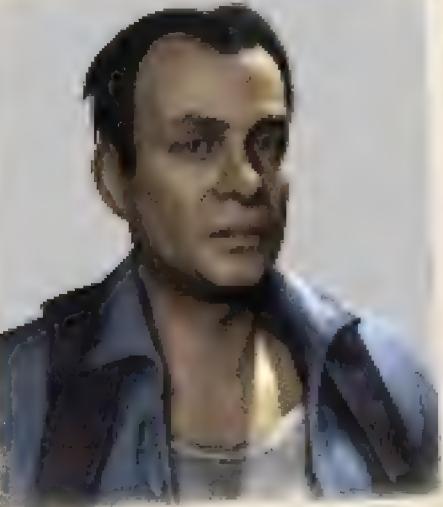

Nathan Drake

Young, athletic and extremely dedicated, Nathan Drake – or “Nate” – is a rare breed among treasure hunters. Able to see more than just dollar signs and not be blinded by the promise of gold, Nate became an explorer as much for the thrill of discovery and the pursuit of adventure as for the fortune and glory.

Lately though, things have changed. Along with his friend Jason Dante, Nate has made his experience available to the highest bidder and has found himself in a shady world of smugglers, antiquity dealers and con men, all scrabbling for the next big score.

But unlike the other inhabitants of this underground world, Nate has adventure in his blood. Rumoured to be a descendant of legendary 16th century explorer Sir Francis Drake, Nate’s ability to follow hidden trails and uncover clues where others fail sets him apart from the rest.

Jason Dante

As Jason Dante ducks, dives and wise-cracks his way into his mid-40s, it's clear that as a treasure hunter, he's getting past his prime – if he ever had a "prime" to begin with. More of a hustler than a scholar, Dante grew up on the wrong side of the tracks and has always been motivated by making a fast buck.

But despite all his faults, Dante is a likeable character, always ready with a smart quip to lighten the mood when the chips are down. He may be slimy and completely untrustworthy, but he's one of the most dedicated fortune seekers Nate has ever met and won't stop until he gets the riches he's always dreamed of.

Marisa Chase

Tough, smart and highly driven, Chase (“Only my grandfather calls me Marisa”) is more than able to hold her own when the going gets tough. The only thing that matters to her more than her work is her beloved grandfather, an eminent archaeologist, expert in Meso-American history and Chase’s mentor. As athletic as she is intelligent, she’s more than capable of keeping up with Nate over any terrain but is a dedicated pacifist and steadfastly refuses to hold a gun in any situation.

THE BLACK MARKET

Trade Bounty Collectibles with other players that are NEAR you. Bounty Collectibles are treasures that are picked up in the single player game when enemies are killed. These are rare drops in the single player game. To help complete the collections players can choose to trade using NEAR.

To accomplish a trade the following is what happens:

1. Players go into the Black Market.

2. They will be asked to look for Trades from the Black Market using the NEAR app.

3. If any Trades (Game Goods) are discovered and collected they will be processed by the Black Market into collectibles that they will receive and added to their current collections.

4. The player can then choose which collectibles they are interested in trying to get from the Black Market. This choice will preference trades they receive from other players.

5. The player leaves the Black Market and submits a new trade offer to the Black Market that is based on their current set of collectibles that they own.

Everytime the single player game boots up a check will be done with NEAR to see if any new trades have been received. If a new trade has been received the number of new trades discovered and collected will be shown on the main menu via the Black Market button.

Trades (Game Goods) that have been discovered will have a very short expiration date on them to encourage players to download the trade and process it when they get them.

There are NEAR specific collectibles called Fetishes. These can only be found via the Black Market using NEAR. A player will receive a Fetish if the trade they receive does not offer anything unique to their current Bounty Collections.
